

CHANNEL DEEPENING CONTRACT IS LET

Canal to Be Dredged to Depth of Twenty Feet at High Tide; Work Begins on First Unit of Water Front Improvements

The San Francisco Bridge Works of San Francisco has commenced dredging operations on the canal here, a heavy appropriation having been made by the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company to deepen the channel to fourteen feet, which will give a depth of twenty feet at high tide for the accommodation of sea-going barges to the Growers' Rice Milling Company and oil barges to the plant of the Pacific Coast Steel Company.

No extension of the channel further inland is projected at this time, but its direction in deep water will be altered to prevent its filling as in former years.

Heavy piling will border the entire canal which, when it reaches deep water, will be diverted to the same general direction as that of the Schaw-Batcher canal, which has shown a tendency to keep itself dredged rather than filling with silt.

First Unit of Project.

The dredging of the channel may be regarded as the first unit in the extensive plans for a deep-water front extending from Hunters Point south to South San Francisco, a project which includes leveling Hunters Point and the reclamation of all intervening tide lands.

This immense project is sponsored by the Commercial Development Committee of the League of Improvement Clubs of San Francisco. P. R. Thompson of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, who is well known here, is chairman of the committee and has for the past two years consistently advocated these improvements and outlined to the various civic and commercial bodies of San Francisco their ultimate necessity if the city of San Francisco is to retain its supremacy as a great world port.

A meeting of the Civic League of Improvement Clubs which representatives of the Board of Supervisors attended was held in the Mills Building, San Francisco, on Thursday evening.

W. J. Martin was present, and when asked for his views stated in a brief address that he felt he could safely bespeak the northern end of San Mateo county heartily favoring any water front improvements which would further assist in bringing deep-sea vessels to the port of San Francisco.

A bill authorizing preliminary steps for the leveling of Hunters Point and filling adjacent tide lands will be presented to the Legislature at the present session.

The bill would create a board, consisting of the president of the State Harbor Board, city engineer of San Francisco, and George Kneese, Surveyor of San Mateo county, to direct the work. An appropriation of $50,000 for preliminary planning is advocated.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY SWART FORMS LAW PARTNERSHIP

District Attorney Franklin K. Swart has formed a law partnership with Ray Lyon. The firm will be known as Swart & Lyon and will engage in a general law practice.

Lyon is acting as Assistant District Attorney, and, while only a recent arrival in San Mateo county, has made a distinct impression on those who have come into business contact with him.

District Attorney Swart's ability and integrity are well known and the combination should shortly take its place among the leading law firms of the district.

FOUR YOUTHS HELD TO SUPERIOR COURT

Timothy O'Leary, Henry Loftus, Patrick Barry and "Butch" Code, the four San Francisco youths who were arrested following the shooting by Marshal Arthur G. Meehan of Edward J. McGlennon, 17 years old, at San Bruno in the early morning of January 2, were held to answer to the Superior Court by Justice of the Peace Johnson of Daly City on a charge of violating chapter 218, motor vehicle act of 1917, which makes it a felony to drive off with another person's automobile without the owner's consent.

McGlennon and the other four boys, after a New Year's night party in San Francisco, drove off with an automobile belonging to a physician, the machine having been left standing in front of the doctor's home. The youths drove to San Bruno, where they broke into a garage in order to secure some oil for the stolen automobile. Officer Meehan, who had been summoned to the garage by the night watchman at the place, shot and killed McGlennon when the latter refused to halt when he had been ordered to do so by the officer. A coroner's jury at San Mateo the following day found that the shooting was unwarranted.

District Attorney Swart, who conducted a rigid examination of Meehan at the inquest, stated Wednesday that while the facts brought out showed that the shooting of the youth was wholly unjustifiable, the marshal was within the law when he fired and therefore could not be prosecuted.

ATTY COLEBERD'S OFFICES NOW IN BANK BUILDING

City Attorney J. W. Coleberd has removed from his former offices in the Postoffice building and has established headquarters in attractive offices in the new Bank building.

Miss Claire Forster of San Bruno has taken a position with him as stenographer.

CRAP GAME RAID STARTS A RIOT

EMPTY MILK BOTTLES FLY AT SHIPYARD RESTAURANT; INNOCENT BYSTANDER STRUCK ON HEAD.

A raid on a crap game on Wednesday in a coffee house across the track from the Schaw-Batcher shipyard, made by Under Sheriff Lampkin, Deputy Sheriff Hogan, Constable James C. Wallace and Chief of Police Conrad, culminated in a riot in which two hundred shipyard men took part, using empty milk bottles as weapons in an attempt to rescue two of their fellow workers.

A boy employed at the shipyard, whose name was not learned, was struck on the head by one of the flying bottles and taken to the shipyard hospital for treatment.

Raid Is Planned.

The raid, which was carefully planned by the officers after a conference with a high official at the shipyard, took place at 11:30 o'clock. When the officers arrived at the suspected coffee house an active crap game was in session. George Hogan, Clarence Love and Victor Pecetti were taken in custody and brought before Recorder Dowd for trial.

Hogan pleaded "Not guilty," and the officers being unable to swear that he was actually engaged in the game, he was dismissed. Love and Pecetti were each fined $15. Love paid his fine, but Pecetti asked that an officer accompany him to the Shipyard Restaurant, where he would borrow the money. On this second trip the officers arrested George Cimini, and the ship workers began to crowd the officers.

Some one threw an empty milk bottle. This was the signal for a general fusillade, and the riot reached such proportions that Deputy Hogan was compelled to draw his revolver and threaten the menacing crowd in order to hold to his prisoners.

Cimini gave his age as 17 when brought before Recorder Dowd. He was committed to the Juvenile Court at Redwood City.

All of the men arrested live in San Francisco.

LESLIE B. LOOMIS IS CITED FOR CONTEMPT

EXECUTIVE OF STEEL COMPANY ORDERED TO APPEAR BEFORE JUDGE GRAHAM.

Leslie B. Loomis, head engineer of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, was on Thursday cited to appear before Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court for alleged refusal to pay his wife, Mildred Augustus Loomis, $75 a month from June 1, 1918.

Mrs. Loomis sued for separate maintenance in July, two years after the marriage. It was stipulated in the agreement that Loomis should pay his wife $75 a month for a period of one year, when the amount would be increased to $100 a month, payments to continue during her lifetime.

In the affidavit filed Mrs. Loomis declares her husband has refused to comply with the court order and now owes her the sum of $650.

BIG IRON PLANT TO LOCATE HERE?

W. J. MARTIN CONFIRMS RUMOR THAT EASTERN COMPANY IS PLEASED WITH INDUSTRIAL SITE OFFERED.

W. J. Martin, general manager of the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company, in an interview with a representative of The Enterprise relative to the rumor that a large Eastern iron company was considering a site in South San Francisco for its plant, declared that there was substantial foundation for the report, and, while he was not in a position to make announcement of the name of the company, declared he was optimistic about the closing of the deal.

"I am not free at this time to release anything further than that negotiations have progressed to a very satisfactory point. Everything indicates that this industry, which will eventually employ 700 men, will be secured for South San Francisco.

"The site offered it by the Land Company is satisfactory, and if certain negotiations now under way are successfully concluded by the corporation, and I believe they will be, we can expect the industry to locate its plant here," said W. J. Martin.

INFLUENZA CASES NOT ON INCREASE

PHYSICIANS REPORT THAT THERE IS NO HEIGHTENING OF EPIDEMIC IN SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO.

Local physicians report no abatement in the number of influenza cases here, although there is no decided increase in the number of new cases being reported daily to the health authorities. At present there are about forty people being treated by Drs. Dolley and Doak in South San Francisco.

Neither is the percentage of fatalities higher, the deaths being accumulative rather than on the increase. There was a slight flare up of the epidemic recently, and several of these have resulted fatally.

Miss Mary McLaughlin, well and favorably known here, was among those who succumbed to the malady this past week. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McLaughlin of 465 Grand avenue, and passed away on Tuesday from pneumonia, secondary to influenza, following a ten days' illness.

Miss McLaughlin was an active member of the Eastern Star Lodge, under whose auspices the funeral was conducted on Thursday at 10 a. m., interment being at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Josie Ellis died at her residence, 13 Maple avenue, on Monday from influenza. The remains are being held for the arrival of her husband from Fort Stewart, Virginia.

Francis Paganini died at the South San Francisco Hospital on Wednesday, a victim of influenza. Funeral services will be conducted on Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Interment at the Italian

Mrs. Vera Callahan, employed as bookkeeper in the pickle cellar of the Western Meat Company's plant, died on Thursday at her residence, 730 Guerrero street, San Francisco, from influenza.

The deceased was 22 years of age.

GEO. E. BRITTON CALLED BY DEATH

COMMUNITY MOURNS THE UNTIMELY PASSING OF LOCAL SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT, WHO SUCCEUMS TO PNEUMONIA

The entire community is grieving over the death of George E. Britton, superintendent of the South San Francisco schools, who died in his thirty-fifth year at his home at 739 Grand avenue Thursday morning at 12:25 o'clock, following a nine days' illness. Death was caused by pneumonia.

George Britton was a native of Santa Clara county and graduated from Stanford University with the class of 1906. In 1907 he succeeded George W. McIntyre as principal of the local schools, a position which he filled uninterruptedly to the time of his death.

Interment will be at Cypress Lawn Cemetery Friday at 3:30 p. m., the funeral cortege leaving the residence of the deceased at 3 p. m., with the following pall bearers: Thomas L. Hickey Jr., Byrne McSweeney, Lester Montgomery, Angelo Scampini, Joseph Mahoney and Lee Sneath. Funeral services will be conducted at the Cypress Lawn Chapel under the joint auspices of Francis Drake Lodge No. 376, F. and A. M., and Lodge No. 1112, San Mateo Elks, both of which the deceased was a member.

The honorary pall bearers will be W. J. Savage of Colma, representing the County Board of Education; E. N. Brown, representing the South San Francisco School Board; Dr. J. C. McGovern, representing the Elks; A. C. Kleemeyer, representing the Masonic lodge; L. H. Carmon of San Jose and Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney, the latter two intimate friends of the deceased.

In addition to a widow, Ethel Britton, and a child, George Britton Jr., the deceased leaves two brothers, Raymond M. Britton of San Francisco, Captain Louis Britton, who is with the United States forces in France, and a stepsister, Nellie Clements, of San Jose.

ILL WITH INFLUENZA.

Miss Nellie Bortoli, 513 Grand avenue, is seriously ill with bronchitis aggravated by influenza.

Serious concern over the condition of Mrs. W. R. Waelty, who is ill with influenza at her Baden avenue residence, is being shown by her many friends.

HERE IS AN OPPORTUNITY TO IMPROVE YOUR GARDEN

Judge E. E. Cunningham is offering gratis to those who wish to call for them at his residence, 350 Baden avenue, a supply of choice amaryllis roots and dahlia bulbs.

The judge has grown splendid specimens of these beautiful flowers and the opportunity for securing the roots and bulbs for reproduction will undoubtedly be eagerly seized by those interested in developing a worth-while garden.

"Every one is perfectly welcome to them while the supply lasts," Judge Cunningham says.

BABY BORN TO BERNARDOS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bernardo of Miller avenue are being congratulated by their friends on the arrival of a baby boy, born Wednesday morning. Mother and child are doing nicely.

EXCERPTS FROM GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

FIRST BIENNIAL MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR STEPHENS TO STATE LEGISLATURE CONTAINS NOTABLE PASSAGES.

In accordance with the provisions of the State Constitution, and following a precedent set by each of his predecessors, Governor William D. Stephens has delivered his first biennial message to the State Legislature, Senate and Assembly of the State.

In it the Governor paid a striking tribute to the "brave sons who gave their lives that we might live," and said:

"At this moment when the representatives of the allied nations are preparing to assemble about the peace table, it would seem fitting that California's Legislature by appropriate resolution present to our President and those who may represent this nation at the peace conclave and to the Congress, our insistence that Germany be made to realize the awfulness of the crimes she committed and be compelled to make the fullest possible measure of restitution for the fearful havoc and destruction so deliberately and so cruelly inflicted."

The following passages also appeared in the message:

"The problems of labor are among the most important with which we have to deal. Labor is entitled to receive a larger share of the profits of industry than heretofore it has obtained. The rights of labor must not be abridged or impaired. The high mark set by the legislature of California in the enactment of just and humane laws respecting labor must be maintained. There should be no lowering of the social and industrial standards which have been written into our laws after years of struggle against greed and avarice. Every law which hereafter shall concern the relations either of labor or of capital should be based upon principles of even and exact justice.

"Among the advocates of the ruthless exercise of industrial destruction, without regard for principles of right and justice, stand the false friends of honest labor, those cowardly and disloyal industrial terrorists, the so-called I. W. W. element. These Huns of industry seek the destruction of every honest impulse and of every fair and just rule which men out of their age-long experience have created for their mutual benefit. These terrorists do not represent labor, but are the bitter enemies of all honest workers. During the war they did all in their power to aid the enemy. They must be suppressed with a determined hand, and I would recommend the enactment of such stringent legislation as will aid and assist the officers of the law in more effectively dealing with this law-defying element.

"While the women of California for several years have enjoyed political equality with men, it was not until the emergency created by the war that women demonstrated they were entitled also to be accorded full industrial equality. It is to be hoped that soon everywhere it will be recognized that women are entitled to equal pay with men for equal service. Also in matters which will come before the legislature it should not be forgotten that women have fully earned by their accomplishments every political, civil and industrial right that men possess.

"For the first time in the history of the State, women will serve as members of the California Legislature, and I am sure that the public welfare will be greatly promoted by this direct participation of women in the making of laws. Ever since women have had the ballot they have exercised a healthy and desirable influence upon legislation. That influence always has been exercised in behalf of fair and just measures. Many of our best laws are directly due to the fact that women have the ballot. Now that they not only vote, but as well directly assist in making the laws we may be certain that there will be still further improvement in our laws and in our institutions.

U. S. OUTLAY REACHES HIGH WATER MARK

MORE THAN TWO BILLION DOLLARS SPENT IN MONTH OF DECEMBER, ACCORDING TO SECRETARY OF TREASURY GLASS.

San Francisco, Jan. 9.—Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass, in a telegram to Governor James K. Lynch of the Federal Reserve Bank, to-day stated that the actual cash outgo of $2,060,000,000 spent by the government in the month of December was the highest reached during any month of the war. Actual money spent during the last six months ending December 31, excluding transactions in the public debt, was $10,632,000,000, according to the telegram.

The December total is $40,000,000 less than estimated from figures compiled by the Treasury Department New Year's Day.

Secretary Glass followed this statement with an appeal to the bankers of the country to oversubscribe the current issue of treasury certificates of indebtedness.

"America had almost reached the peak of production of war material and supplies at the moment when the armistice was signed," declared the Secretary of the Treasury. "Her unstinted effort in men and material undoubtedly had decisive effect in bringing the war to an early conclusion. The bills are now pouring in which require the government to pay the price of this great effort.

"The money paid to the government's creditors will find its way promptly back into the channels of commerce and trade and peaceful enterprise and back into the deposits of the banks. The welfare of the people depends no less in peace than in war upon the maintenance of the government's credit.

"We shall not shame ourselves in the eyes of our brave soldiers as they return from the battlefields of France by failure to support the credit of the country for which they were willing and ready to die.

"The war is won, the war bills must be paid. The welfare and prosperity

JOS. A. MCCORMICK DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

ONE OF SAN MATEO COUNTY'S MOST POPULAR MEN VICTIM OF DIABETES.

Joseph A. McCormick, until recently Justice of the Peace of the Second Township, died at 9:10 o'clock Tuesday night in San Mateo at the A street home of his father, Thomas A. McCormick, following an illness of only three days. His death was caused by diabetes, with pneumonia as the contributing cause.

Joseph McCormick was born in Vallejo forty-five years ago and was educated at St. Mary's College, where he made his mark as a baseball player. He continued his interest in that popular sport after going to San Mateo and appeared in many games there.

Possessed of a sunny disposition and generous to a fault, Joseph McCormick was one of the most popular young men in San Mateo and his friends were legion.

The funeral was held Thursday with services at St. Matthew's Catholic Church, commencing at 10 o'clock.

McCormick is survived by his aged father, Thomas A. McCormick; one brother, Frank E. McCormick, San Mateo's commissioner of public health and safety, and three sisters, Mrs. Walter Sullivan, Miss Alma McCormick and Miss Ethel McCormick.

of this fair land of ours can only be preserved if the war expenditures of the government, now at their maximum, are promptly and ungrudgingly provided."

THE HOME PAPER.

When the evenin' shade is fallin' at the endin' o' the day,
An' a feller rests from labor smokin' his pipe o' clay,
There's nothin' does him so much good, be fortune up or down,
As the little country paper from his ol' home town.

It ain't a thing o' beauty an' its print ain't always clae,
But it straightens out his temper when a feller's feelin' mean;
It takes the wrinkles off his face an' brushes off the frown,
That little country paper from his ol' home town.

It tells of all the parties an' balls of Punkin row,
'Bout who spent Sunday with his girl, an' how the crops'll grow;
How it keeps a feller posted 'bout who is up an' who is down,
That little country paper from his ol' home town.

Now I like to read the dailies an' the story papers, too,
And at times the yellow novels an' some other trash—don't you?
But when I want some readin' that will brush away a frown,
I want that little paper from my ol' home town.

SUPERVISORS REPEAL WELFARE ORDINANCE

ATTEMPT TO ABOLISH SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION MEETS WIDESPREAD OPPOSITION.

The San Mateo County Supervisors started the new year by electing Supervisor John MacBain of Menlo Park chairman for the coming year, to succeed Dr. C. V. Thompson, and repealing the new public welfare ordinance adopted last month, which would have done away with the Social Service Commission and the present system of handling the county relief. The action of the board in taking steps toward taking the relief work out of the hands of the commission of women met with such widespread opposition that the board finally concluded to repeal the ordinance. A referendum movement started against the objectionable ordinance was halted when the Supervisors agreed to rescind their action.

The board voted to continue for another six months the appropriation of $500 a month for squirrel extermination.

Committees Are Named.

When Supervisor MacBain was elected chairman he announced the appointment of the following committees for the ensuing year:

Finance—Brown, Francis and Thompson.

Court House—MacBain, Thompson and Hickey.

County Farm—Hickey, Brown and Thompson.

Supplies—Francis, MacBain and Hickey.

STEEL MEN OPTIMISTIC OVER TRADE OUTLOOK

With only a small demand for steel and mills reducing operations, sentiment among the leading observers in the industry is unquestionably optimistic. One prominent steel man recently made a $1000 bet that pig iron would sell at $40 a ton before July 1. The taker was another steel man who recently was dubious about the future of the trade, but has since changed his views and now expresses strong doubt whether he will win his wager.

Discussing the trade outlook this observer said: "Any one who is banking on a prolonged dull period in steel had better change his position in the next few months, or he will lose money. I am sanguine that before the middle of next year mills will be operating full capacity and demand and prices will be all we can wish for."

Already foreign buying was evident, he added, although it had not yet reached large proportions. Incidentally, he pointed out that export steel business hinged to a great extent on the attitude of our bankers. "If we charge South America 7 per cent for money and they can get it in London for a little over 4 per cent the business will not come here," he asserted.

For the next two or three months the steel man in question said that business was likely to be rather dull in general lines, although concerns making specialties were likely to have their hands full. Companies making automobile forgings, car and locomotive axles and similar material would probably be just as busy throughout the winter as they ever were, and this business should be more profitable than the manufacture of shells at a fixed price.

Alloy steel companies also, he thought, were likely to meet a strong and continued demand.

Now that the armistice has been signed will somebody please tell us whether it is disloyal to serve German fried potatoes?

UNITED CIGAR STORES

To All My Old Friends and All the New Ones That This Announcement Will Bring Me

I have taken advantage of the Agency Plan of the United Cigar Stores Co., which in every essential respect makes my store a UNITED CIGAR STORE.

This plan has proved immensely successful wherever introduced, because it passes on to smokers in smaller places all the advantages enjoyed by the smokers of the large cities in which the United Cigar Stores Co. operate 1,000 stores.

Under the plan I own the store as before and my name remains over the door, but my arrangement gives me all the benefits of buying and selling that any United Cigar Store enjoys.

All the famous brands at United Cigar Store prices.

United Coupons or Certificates with all purchases.

My Store Will Open as a United Cigar Store Saturday, January 11th.

A Debt to Heroes

The Fifth Liberty Loan will be known as the Victory Loan.

Victory is not merely a matter of jubilation, accepting surrender of a beaten foe and dropping the gun to take up the plowshare in the furrow where it stood when the call to arms came.

The Victory Loan is one of the many great obligations that come to the victors. President Woodrow Wilson and the members of the American peace delegation are now in France looking after the world obligations. Our part now is to prepare to pay in small measure the debt we owe our khaki and blue clad champions.

A large part of the money to be raised in the Victory Loan campaign next April will be used for the rehabilitation of our wounded men. The government will do its utmost to restore every wounded American soldier and sailor to health and self-supporting activity.

When the wounded man has been given complete medical and surgical treatment he will be considered by the Federal Board for Vocational Education. If his disability prevents return to work he left at the call of the government a wide choice of occupation is open to him.

If the injured man needs an artificial limb or appliance of any sort the government will provide it. Until his special treatment or training ends he will receive regular compensation and the family will receive the allotments. The war risk insurance will be paid until the end of the vocational training if the course is elected without necessity, but in this case the allotments will not be paid the family.

Instead of finding dependent cripples and beggars made so by an unappreciative country, they will be highly trained heroes whose sacrifices will not be tarnished by lack of gratitude.

If you are worth victory prepare now to buy Victory Bonds.

Our Army

We stand upon the threshold of a new era, and we cannot predict what its opening door will show us.

During the next few months our young men will come home from abroad. They are indeed picked men. Both in physical and mental qualities they are the best representatives of our nation. From their age and qualifications we know them to be the men who will shape the policies of this country for the next twenty-five years.

Two million in number, they have gone through an experience which was certain to alter them. What changes may have been made in their character and opinions we cannot tell.

Probably their military training will lead them to demand more exactness in all details and business arrangements. But this is entirely subordinate to the great question of how they will react upon America—how they will form her ideas and influence her.

The future must tell us. Just now they are only our boys coming home, and we will receive them with a joyous welcome.

It is sometimes difficult to determine whether a man lives in comfort or luxury. But just now there is an unerring test which may be applied. You have only to ascertain whether he eats eggs for breakfast.

"By their fruits ye shall know them!" Not so with California growers, it would seem. Of late, that is to say since 1917, complaints have poured over the country by the bucketfuls about the terrible condition fruits have reached their destination in from this domestic-foreign port. Perhaps the complainers forgot that this was a season of war and that in such a season they were lucky to have any fruit at all.

Probably now that the argument is over, shipping by rail will come into its own again and the old standard of model transporting facilities will return. Until then, we can eat prunes.

A writer in the New York Tribune explains how Germany can pay an indemnity of one hundred billion dollars on the installment plan, with interest. This will mean an annual payment of five billion dollars for thirty-nine and a half years. We trust that this calculation will encourage the Germans.

It is evident the peace of 1918 was not the piece the military machine of Potsdam had been looking for, but it might have been worse, although it is hard to pound logic through a hitching post.

The difference between the allies and the Germans is that the allies want a just peace, and the Germans want just peace.

Since reaching Europe our President has partaken of Parisian banquets, American army chow and "the roast beef of Old England." We do not know what the political result may be, but we should fancy that the physical result might be an attack of indigestion.

One distinguishing peculiarity of the Bersaglieri, Italy's crack troops, is that they never walk. They are supposed always to advance at the run, whether in parade, road marching, or in the field. If we could only engage one of these young soldiers as office boy and messenger.

Prince Eitel Fritz, the most respectable of the present Hohenzollerns and the only one who remains in Germany, professes that his only desire is to be "a simple German citizen." It would have been well for the rest of the tribe if they had confined their ambition within such moderate limits.

It is all right for any nation to seek "a place in the sun," but no one nation should attempt to corner all the sunlight.

SO SAYS GEORGE HAAKER, IN LETTER FROM BREST, FRANCE, TO HIS BROTHER, HENRY.

Henry Haaker, cashier of the Bank of South San Francisco, is in receipt of the following letter from his brother, George, who arrived in France two days before the signing of the armistice:

Brest, France, Dec. 17, 1918.

Dear Brother: Having a few spare moments this a. m., will drop you a few lines. To-day is about the first time I have seen the sun since I have been here. It rains every day and is awful cold. We all wear big hip boots and rain coats all the time. Great life if you don't weaken. Brest is a seaport, and I guess the biggest shipping port in France. Most of the troops going back to the States go by the way of Brest, and chances are I will have a chance to see Frank and some of the other fellows.

We left New York October 28 and arrived at Brest November 9. Had a good trip and wasn't a bit sick on the water. We left Brest and went south about 380 miles to a town by the name of Jonsac. We stayed at Jonsac

Between the exploits of our army and the vision of President Wilson riding with King George in a state coach behind eight horses, it will not be surprising if Uncle Sam is obliged to order a new hat of a larger size.

The same laundry may cleanse the blouse of the workman and the silk pajamas of the capitalist. The clothesline is your only true democracy.

The American government does not know what to do with the railroads, and the European governments do not know what to do with the ex-Kaiser. Why not put the ex-Kaiser on the railroads and run him around America?

Among the things which will go on the 1918 scrap-heap is the belief in the divine right of kings.

The American colors cannot be made up among the allies. There are red-blooded nations and blue-blooded nations, but not a white-blooded nation among them anywhere.

When our soldiers come home they will be able to tell us what a Christmas in France is like, and many of them will be able to tell us what two Christmases in France are like.

Tastes in colors differ. Alsace and Lorraine have a special liking for khaki, while Germany abominates it.

After making a close study of newspaper reports we have arrived at the conclusion that either the Czar of Russia is dead or he is alive.

A child's last vanishing vision of the wonderful Christmas celebration is usually the doctor. It is a pity that the doctor cannot be administered first and the Christmas celebration afterward.

H. CAVASSA SECURES UNITED CIGAR AGENCY

DOUBLE UNITED COUPONS GIVEN ON ALL PURCHASES OPENING DAY, SATURDAY, JANUARY 11.

An interesting business change will take place in South San Francisco on Saturday, January 11, when H. A. Cavassa's drug store, 258 Grand avenue, will become a United Cigar Stores Company's agency.

Cavassa states that he will be prepared to meet all demands for any brands of United cigars at the same prices which prevail in the 1000 other United Cigar Stores throughout the United States. All the famous and well-known brands of this firm will be on sale.

This agency gives Cavassa all the advantages of the United Cigar Stores and he will enjoy as a result better prices, enabling him to give better prices and better values to his customers. United coupons will be issued with every purchase, as is the custom with the United Stores, and on the opening day all customers will receive double coupons and souvenirs will be given away free with every purchase.

The decision of the United Cigar Stores Company to enter the field in South San Francisco is regarded as an indication that the big United concern realizes the big future awaiting South San Francisco. It also puts South San Francisco in line with the big markets of the world.

about eight days, just long enough to sample the wine, and then returned to Brest. Jonsac is about sixty miles from Bordeaux, so you can get an idea of what part of France I have already seen. I don't care about traveling in France, as riding in small box-cars, with about forty men in a car, isn't very pleasant.

Brest is a good-sized city, but the streets are narrow and crowded. It would remind you of Dupont street in San Francisco. Every other door is a wine shop, but it would cost you a fortune if you were to drink any amount of it.

August Hanson and Charles Arata are still with me, and old "Box Car" is cook. He makes more noise than any man in the company. I don't know when I will be back, but think I will be stuck over here until some time in the spring. I sure would like to go back, but I will have to wait my turn. I struck it pretty lucky. I am filing clerk in the quartermaster's office, but can't tell how long I will be there.

Well, Henry, I don't know of any more news, except I am feeling fine and have a nice little French mustache. Hoping this letter finds you and the rest of the family in the best of health, I will say good-bye for this time.

BROTHER GEORGE.

HOOVER, DEAR HOOVER.

Oh, Hoover, dear Hoover, come home to us now!
They have taken the food rules away,
Yet they ask us to save and they don't tell us how,
And we need you so badly to-day
May we eat pork and beef, of all diners the chief,
Or must we take lamb in their stead?
And say if you please, may we have bread and cheese,
And should it be substitute bread?
Shall we eat raisin cake? Apple pies may we bake?
We're all of us sadly perplexed.
The food rules, dear Hoover, seem all to be over—
Oh, come home and tell us what next.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY SERVICES

The Christian Science Society of South San Francisco will hold services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. and services Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Fraternal Hall, Grand avenue, near Maple. Subject of lesson sermon, "Sacrament."

PUBLIC WELFARE WORK

Under this heading The Enterprise will publish weekly articles furnished by the San Mateo Conference of Social Agencies, dealing with public welfare work.

No. 1

The war has taught every one the need for public welfare work.

Who in our community is living under conditions, mentally, spiritually, physically and socially below the standard of "decent, wholesome human existence? This question has become a more personal one to each and every one of us; and the second, What can I do to understand sympathetically and help those, especially the children, who do live below this standard?

There are organizations in this county working for these ends, and we hope through these articles to tell of their activities, and awaken the interest of the voters of the county to a more active sense of individual responsibility.

The men as well as the women should be alive to these problems and respond to the duty of county affairs. A well-known writer on social welfare has recently written: "There is no greater danger ahead of us in social work than sex solidarity. You cannot afford to hand the nation over for its redemption to the women of the nation, any more than you can hand it over to the men alone." Let us have team work in San Mateo county.

Community Councils.

During the reconstruction period community councils are to be organized in the near future in all parts of the United States. These will afford a wonderful opportunity for the discussion of all the questions of social and economic interest, and for bringing the people of each community into closer touch. Units will be formed throughout the county and large cities will probably be divided into districts.

Every man and woman will be eligible to membership. "Democracy is built and will never go forward except on lines of highly developed local activity. The free will of the individual participating in public affairs is the only way of democratic progress." And it would seem that the community council will afford just this opportunity.

The community councils will be organized throughout San Mateo county during the month, and local branches will be formed in the various communities.

It is hoped that all citizens will take advantage of this old-fashioned town meeting with a new name, and help develop community interest in welfare work.

YOUNG BACHELORS' CLUB TO GIVE FIRST DANCE

The Young Bachelors of Redwood City will give their first grand ball in Foresters' Hall on Saturday evening, January 11. The members are making every preparation to insure their initial party being a grand success, and from present indications a big crowd will be in attendance. Excellent music has been secured for the occasion and the members of the club will act as a committee to see that everybody attending the dance has a good time. Dancing will continue until 3 o'clock.

Every Woman Loves Furs

Whether it is because they are becoming or because an atmosphere of luxury, and sometimes a suggestion of splendor belongs to them, or that they are so comfortable—every woman loves furs. They may be excused for extravagances in this direction; there are so many reasons why furs are a better investment than any other sort of apparel. Furriers have presented a greater variety in scarf and muff sets and in fur garments of all kinds than is usual in one season and this has made one more reason why furs are everywhere. Their vogue is universal.

Beginning with the short muffler collar and ending with the long coat, one may buy wraps of any size between with muffs to match. The scarfs or capes and muffs classed as separate furs and sets, are made in all varieties of skins. Then there are the short coats (their name is legion) and finally the long capes and coats that almost cover the figure.

The separate furs—scarfs or small capes with muffs to match—lead in popularity. Recently hats trimmed with the same fur or partly made of it, have added a chic, harmonious detail to the midwinter toilette for the street, but a scarf or cape looks well with any sort of millinery. The handsome mink scarf and muff shown in the picture are designed for matronly wearers and are good example of new but staple styles that will outlast many seasons. Tails as a finish for scarf ends have been reinstated, but the flat fur-covered button is a novelty in ornaments. There is a narrow frill of satin along the center of the scarf to protect the lining when the scarf is brought close up about the throat. The melon muff is finished at the ends with plaited puffs of satin and hangers of satin allow it to be worn suspended from the arm. Hudson seal, mink, mole, squirrel, kolinsky, are the short-haired furs liked best for sets with marten, skunk, fox and sable the choicest in long-haired pelts.

Julia Bottum

Amber Instead of Pink.

Flesh-pink chiffon and georgette blouses are being worn so universally now that women of exclusive taste have turned to another tint, and that tint seems to be amber—not yellow, and not tan, but the indescribable golden shade produced by sunlight shining through clear amber. A simple tucked batiste blouse becomes, touched by the magic wand of amber, an exclusive model worth several dollars. Amber chiffon blouses cost still more, and amber organdie trimmed with filet lace is exceedingly distinguished in price.

Novel Notes.

White chinchilla is as much liked as ever for babies' coats. Many of the new gowns are made with front and back alike. Sheer blouses are sprinkled with small embroidered squares. Rabbit fur trims with equal success gowns, coats and hats. Vells are plain and figured meshes with ribbon borders.

STATE TO HONOR FIGHTING FORCES

WASHINGTON INTERESTED IN
PLAN FOR BIG CELEBRATION
APRIL 5.

Washington is showing keen interest in California's project to make of April 5 a day for State-wide celebration in honor of the men who went into the fighting forces. The Council of National Defense has telegraphed to Director Charles C. Moore of the State Council of Defense, requesting fullest particulars of the plan, in order that they may acquaint other States in the Union.

Copies of the following telegram, sent to the Council of National Defense December 24, have been forwarded to the California Senators and Representatives at Washington and to the Senators and Assemblymen of the California State Legislature:

"In appreciative recognition of the honorable service of those Californians who joined the colors, the State Council of Defense of California is preparing plans for a celebration on April 5, to be participated in by every city and community in the State. Governor William D. Stephens has announced that he will declare April 5 a State holiday. Chairmen of the county divisions of the State Council have been advised that each county must organize its own celebration. State Legislature is to be asked to provide funds for striking special medal for one hundred and fifty thousand California fighting men, to be presented on April 5 to men who have returned and to the relatives of those not yet demobilized. There is being engraved a golden scroll to be presented by the State of California to relatives of the eleven hundred Californians who gave their lives in the war."

"The Governor has given his hearty approval to this plan and has said that he will proclaim it a State holiday," says Director Moore in a letter to the county division chairmen. "While his influence and endorsement, together with the merit carried by the proposition itself, would perhaps be sufficient for the Legislature to take the necessary steps for its accomplishment, yet it will undoubtedly facilitate the project if you and the members of your division were to meet personally with the State Senators and Assemblymen of your county in order that they may have full information of the plans now in process of formation."

William Hohenzollern always said that he received his crown from the Lord. "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord!"

SAN BRUNO NOTES

W. N. Holliday, Mrs. Holliday and son, Ralph, who are ill with influenza, are reported improving.

Mrs. E. Hicks, who has been quite feeble for some time, was seized with a fainting spell on Sunday last. In falling she sustained several severe bruises and is suffering from nervous shock. She was removed to the Red Cross Hospital Thursday morning.

The Girl Scouts have arranged a whist party in their rooms for Friday of this week.

The difficulty between Lund and Smith, which was to have been settled by a jury trial last Friday, has been adjusted out of court.

Master Leslie Fox of Huntington Park is ill with influenza.

CAUGHT AFTER FORGING NAME OF SAN BRUNO MERCHANT

Wanted for forging the name of a San Bruno merchant to a check for $40 and cashing it at the San Mateo branch of the Bank of Italy, a 15-year-old boy of Morgan Hill was arrested in Richmond upon advices sent there by Chief of Police Thomas F. Burke of San Mateo. The youthful prisoner was brought back to San Mateo and is now lodged in the city jail. He will be turned over to the probation officer of Santa Clara county.

The young forger was employed for a week at Cribari's fruit and grocery store in San Bruno. One day he disappeared and a few days later, when Cribari obtained his canceled checks from the bank, he found the one that had been forged by his erstwhile employee. He immediately notified the police and Burke received word that the boy had been apprehended in Richmond.

RED MEN INSTALL OFFICERS; RETURNED SOLDIERS GUESTS

(By George W. Hagedorn.)

Installation of the newly elected officers of Tippecanoe Tribe No. 111, was conducted by Grand District Deputy P. A. Poss, assisted by the following members of Iaquia Tribe No. 162 of San Mateo: A. McIwain, D. D. G. P.; S. Renner, D. D. S. S.; C. Ildo, past sachem; G. Mortenson, C. Gaunt, William Caldwell; A. E. Benoit, G. S., and our old beloved past sachem, Harry Edwards.

The following officers were duly installed: George Kiessling, senior sachem; A. Tognetti, senior sagamore; M. Delemos, junior sagamore; J. A. Riordan, prophet. After the quenching of the council fire the tribe adjourned to the banquet room, where a bountiful spread of corn and venison, such as Past Sachem J. A. Riordan only knows how to provide, was served.

Chiefs Fred Schmidt and Benny Baggenstos of Tippecanoe Tribe and A. E. Benoit and William Caldwell of Iaquia Tribe were the honor guests, having done their bit overseas and at home in the service.

On signing of peace the burdens of war are not at once lifted. The wounds of war heal slowly, but month by month they will gradually improve. The sorrows of war find relief in fraternal work. Members from overseas are on their way back home, and the welcome spirit of this great American organization is extended to all our soldier brothers and assistance given to get back into congenial civil life and service.

With the arrival of the "Grizzlies," many of whom are members of this tribe, Thursday evening will prove another chapter in South San Francisco.

CARD OF THANKS.

The family of Miss Mary McLaughlin, deceased, wish to express their sincerest thanks for the sympathy of friends in their recent bereavement, and to acknowledge with profound gratitude the services of the Order of Eastern Star.

But when Pershing's men come out of Germany they will know their way back if anything happens.

Julian Eltinge in "The Widow's Mite" Tuesday's Feature at Royal Theatre

The popular feminine impersonator, Julian Eltinge, is to be seen in his latest Paramount picture, "The Widow's Mite," at the Royal Theatre on Tuesday. This is a fascinating story written especially for Mr. Eltinge by Marion Fairfax and directed by William C. De Mille. Mr. Eltinge is again given the opportunity to display his famous wardrobe of feminine finery and his talents as a female impersonator.

The story is that of a young New Yorker who decides to dabble in ranching and narrowly misses being robbed by a notorious crook. How he succeeds in foiling the designs of this gentleman through the disguise of a woman, how the disguise got him into lots of trouble with the girl he loves, but how he at length wins out and saves both his girl and the ranch, makes a story of fun and adventure throughout.

Many of the outdoor scenes were "shot" in beautiful Pasadena, California, and it is said that the gowns worn by the star excel in gorgeousness and style even those in his previous productions.

DEAD BODY OF FARMHAND FOUND ON KING'S MOUNTAIN

Frank Furger, a farmhand employed on the Dr. Sweet ranch on King's Mountain, was found dead in his cabin Tuesday afternoon. The body was brought to Redwood City by Deputy Coroner J. E. Layng and an autopsy performed at the James Crowe undertaking parlors showed that death was caused by pneumonia.

Furger has a son, Joseph Furger, who is employed on the Herbert Fleishhaker place at Woodside and who makes his home in Redwood City. The wife and two small children of the dead man were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home in Halfmoon Bay several years ago.

SCHOOLS MAY CLOSE AS RESULT OF INFLUENZA

Due to a decided increase in the number of influenza cases among the school children of San Bruno, serious consideration is being given to the closing of the schools there.

The disease has stricken a great many children and the temporary suspension of classes will probably result as a precautionary measure to prevent a further spread of the disease.

The entire family of J. Reed, with the exception of the boy, Norman, are ill with influenza.

Among those afflicted with influenza are Gladys Beckner, Vella Ledworth and Eda May Davis.

FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES HOLD INSTALLATION

Following are the new officers installed by the Fraternal Order of Eagles for the ensuing year:

J. Anderson, president; S. Nieri, vice-president; P. Minucciani, worthy chaplain; D. Hyland, secretary; H. A. Cavassa, treasurer; Dr. T. C. Doak, physician; W. Pitt and J. J. Dowd, trustees.

Mrs. E. A. Holmes succumbed last Friday to illness superinduced by influenza.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas of San Mateo officiated at the funeral service at Cypress Lawn.

The deceased was in her seventy-sixth year and leaves three daughters, Mrs. A. Augsberger, Mrs. M. Levy and Miss Holmes, to mourn her passing.

The problem of getting rid of the Kaiser is one that beats the Dutch, all right.
